Autobytel.com Previews 3D Modeling Technology for Customized Online Vehicle Selection

San Jose, CA, February 17, 1999 Autobytel.com inc., the premier Internet car-buying service, announced today that its Advanced Technology Department has developed a prototype in which car buyers can fully customize vehicles on the Autobytel.com website (www.autobytel.com) before they buy. Autobytel.com's new 3D Virtual Showroom^{U.S. Pat. Pend.}, designed to take advantage of the capabilities of Intel's forthcoming Pentium® III processor, will allow consumers to view complete three-dimensional models of vehicles. The prototype was demonstrated for the first time at the Intel Pentium III Processor Preview Day.

Autobytel.com joined forces with Viewpoint Data Lab, the world's largest creator of 3D digital content, to develop the interactive automobile showroom that will change the way consumers shop for cars. After entering the 3D Virtual Showroom, car buyers will be able to view all interior and exterior angles of the vehicle in a true-to-life digitized format, as well as customize their car or truck with the options and accessories available.

"Autobytel.com's 3D Virtual Showroom allows consumers to see their dream car the way they want to order it before they even visit a dealership," said Mark W. Lorimer, President and CEO of autobytel.com inc. "Intel's Pentium III processor gave our development team the power to create 3D car models that appear life-like. Viewpoint's history of creating 3D digital automobiles to achieve realistic effects in films, commercials, and computer games made them a natural partner to help create a compelling online experience that educates consumers about their options prior to test driving and ordering."

"With the aid of 3D digital content from Viewpoint, Autobytel.com is the first e-commerce site to fully integrate 3D, enabling people to customize their automobile selection and visually enhance their decision-making process," said Martin Plaehnm,

President of Viewpoint Data Labs, a subsidiary of Computer Associates. "With this solution, users can actually see what it is like to get inside of the vehicle, look inside the vehicle, walk completely around it, sit in different seats, and, while doing so, make changes to the vehicle."

"We applaud the teamwork of Autobytel.com and Viewpoint in creating this exciting Internet shopping application using the capabilities of the Intel Pentium III processor," said Sally Fundakowski, director of Shopping/Business Market Development at Intel. "Given the significant number of consumers who research future car purchases online, the new 3D Virtual Showroom should be a fun and useful tool."

The development of the 3D Virtual Showroom means car buyers no longer have to travel from dealership to dealership to view the exact car or truck they want to buy. The Virtual Showroom allows users to view a complete range of design detail and options, from sunroofs to spoilers. Car buyers can also exercise their imagination and experiment with different combinations of colors and accessories, empowering them with the freedom to make decisions from the comfort of their home or office.

Autobytel.com's 3D Virtual Showroom takes full advantage of the capabilities of the Pentium III processor to create a realistic 3D environment for car buyers. However, Autobytel.com recognizes that users with older generation processors would also benefit from access to this powerful tool. To enable this, Autobytel.com's Advanced Technology Department utilized MetaCreations' MetaStream, a tool that will give those users a 3D image as well.

Autobytel.com Ranks #1 In J. D. Power and Associates Dealer Satisfaction With Online Buying Services

Study shows Autobytel.com's leadership position.

Irvine, CA—April 22, 1999— For the second consecutive year, autobytel.com inc. (NASDAQ:ABTL) is the leader among online buying services according to the J. D. Power and Associates 1999 Dealer Satisfaction with Online Buying Services Study. Of the study's five key measures used to determine overall dealer satisfaction, Business Generation dominated at 62% of the total index. The Business Generation measure assesses quantity and quality of leads, number of sales, gross profit, and marketing success. Other key measures included Web Site Information, Transmission of Leads, and Dealer Support and Services.

"We are pleased that J.D. Power and Associates has reported that Autobytel.com generates nearly as many new-vehicle sales as its two closest competitors combined," said Mark Lorimer, autobytel.com inc. President and CEO. "The weight of the Business Generation measure in this study reinforces our belief that delivering serious car buyers—rather than random site surfers who have no intention of completing the purchase process—to Accredited Dealers is the most effective business philosophy for independent online car-buying programs."

With a recent Forrester Report predicting continued growth in online car sales, Autobytel.com believes that maintaining a long-term leadership position among the country's 22,600 dealers is crucial. "Autobytel.com's commitment to the best possible car-buying experience for consumers has meant that we have always placed a strong emphasis on the quality-and training-of our Accredited Dealers," said Lorimer. "It's gratifying that the stringent requirements placed on our dealer body have garnered their endorsement, as reported by one of the most respected information marketing research firms in the world. We have always believed that a balanced equation-satisfied dealers equal satisfied consumers and vice versa-is key to the success of the online car-buying revolution."

AUTOBYTEL.COM INC. ANNOUNCES CUSTOMER SERVICE WOW

As Vice President, Customer Service WOW, Girina Dong demonstrates Autobytel.com's commitment to maintain the highest levels of customer service and satisfaction.

Irvine, CA—March 10, 1999—Autobytel.com inc., the premier Internet car-buying service, today announced the promotion of Girina Dong to Vice President, Customer Service WOW (Win or Win).

Autobytel.com's customer service department was recently dubbed "Customer Service WOW" to reflect the company's philosophy that its business model must be a win/win for both of its customers—Autobytel.com Accredited Dealers and car buyers. Under Dong's direction, Customer Service WOW Representatives support both dealers and consumers through the Autobytel.com purchase process with the primary goals of eliminating customer service issues before they arise and exceeding customers' expectations. Additionally, Customer Service WOW is charged with utilizing customer feedback to track trends, enabling Autobytel.com to predict consumers' needs and stay ahead of the curve.

"The satisfaction of our customers—I'm referring to both consumers and dealers—is our number one priority, because, without it, our business model won't work," said Ann Delligatta, Autobytel.com's Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer. "Autobytel.com's proactive approach to customer service issues sets us apart from the competition. With Girina at the helm of Customer Service WOW, I believe Autobytel.com will continue to set the standard for e-commerce customer support."

Prior to this promotion, Dong served as the Director of Quality Assurance and Product Integration for Autobytel.com, creating an infrastructure for its IT Department that enabled the company to launch new products at a rapid pace while ensuring their integrity. Additionally, Dong spearheaded Autobytel.com's Quality Assurance program.

Autobytel.com differs from many other e-commerce sites in that the final sales process is based on human contact, not purely on computer interface. In this way, Customer Service WOW straddles both traditional retailing and e-tailing, giving Autobytel.com's Customer Service WOW Representatives the responsibility of ensuring a positive experience both on- and off-line. To achieve this, Dong demands that her staff be proactive rather than reactive and that they find creative ways to WOW their customers.

One of Dong's first steps towards WOWing Autobytel.com customers has been to implement a process that alerts her Customer Service Representatives when a consumer returns to the Autobytel.com site to check on the status of a purchase request. By being aware of this action, Customer Service WOW can monitor the purchase request process to determine if there are any problems at the dealer or consumer level, and, if any are detected, to follow up as necessary.

Prior to joining Autobytel.com, Dong worked at TRW for over nine years. Dong served as Director, Client Services & Systems Development for two years, during which she was charged with ensuring the accuracy and timely completion of projects for numerous financial institutions.

"The whole transaction, from test drive to putting the keys in my hand, took less than an hour. It went so fast that I had to pinch myself to make sure I wasn't dreaming. Also, this was truly a "no pressure sale." I got only the options I wanted and nothing else..."

Chris Carabajal
Oxnard, CA
April 2000

...As a woman buying a car my stories are as bad as they come. After discovering Autobytel.com, I found and bought my Jeep in about an hour, at half the price I was offered at the dealer. Unbelievable! I have referred Autobytel.com to everyone I know, and a good friend of mine had a terrific experience due to my referral when he used the service to purchase his Landcruiser a week later (Autobytel.com is fun for boys too)...

Ana Morley
Oakland, CA
March 2000

...It appears that Autobytel.com falls into the category of the few of us who really understand our most valuable resource (valued customers). Your company's efforts in this area have "gotten my attention" and earned my respect and interest...It really feels great to be treated like a "customer." It's been quite some time that an organization has approached me with such dynamic attitudes and commitment...The Autobytel.com Approach is the best process I have ever seen or experienced for purchasing a vehicle (or any product for that matter...In my mind the Autobytel.com process is the ONLY way to purchase a vehicle!

You guys are the best! I will never use another car purchasing service. When YOU (not Honda) let me know there was a recall on my '98 Honda, I went to my local Honda shop to have it fixed...I bought three cars from Autobytel.com and I wouldn't by a car any other way.

My husband is a semi driver/owner operator so he isn't home too often. The Autobytel.com Manager completed 99% of the paperwork over the phone, he arranged the BEST financing for us, was totally professional and courteous, and expedited everything for my husband's convenience...We received a fantastic service and deal through Autobytel.com.

I didn't think it could be done, but you have made buying a new car fun. Now, you send me a notice of a minor recall on my new car-long before any notice from GM. Thanks for proving that putting the customer first is still a great way to do business. Plus, service that doesn't stop after the check clears. It's pretty clear that Autobytel 'gets it.' The proof is sitting in my garage.

With Autobytel.com, in less than 24 hours I found the pre-owned car I was looking for... I got a great deal, much better than I had found visiting about 10 other car dealers over the last month. I'm telling all my friends about Autobytel.com.

We had a great experience...We were hoping to use the van to go on a trip, and the Autobytel dealer made a great effort to deliver it to us within 24 hours after it arrived at the dealership. We have three little children and we live in a small town 1 1/2 hours from the nearest Honda dealership. It would have been very difficult to shop, negotiate and pick up a van. We cannot get a pizza delivered to our house, but but we were able to have a Honda van delivered with no problem!

Not only did the Autobytel dealer contact me the very same day I sent in my request, he gave me a courtesy ride from the Metro to the dealership, and presented me with a dynamite deal. He was an absolute surprise. In the past I have dealt with dealers who were pushy, arrogant and sometimes short-tempered. The Autobytel dealer was the total opposite. I was totally comfortable with him and he was truly concerned about me getting exactly what I wanted. This is wonderful.

"I'm retired and have had many vehicle dealings in my life. Through the resources made available on Autobytel.com, I was more informed on cost and options and trade-ins than I have ever been on any previous dealings. (Your dealer) made my buying experience the most painless I have ever had. I actually saved $1,500, or more, than what I had expected to spend. Thank you for your services."

"I have never had a more pleasant buying experience. There were no high-pressure sales pitches for unwanted dealer packages, accessories, or extended warranties to cloud the issue. In fact, there were no pressure tactics of any kind. I received a great no-hassle deal."

"I BOUGHT A CAR IN ONE HOUR! Delivered, no headaches, no fighting, NO ROLAIDS OR MAALOX, and the most important thing—this deal made my wife very happy!"

"This is the second car I've purchased through Autobytel.com. Both times were quick and painless AND I got a great deal. A friend of mine told me about Autobytel.com after he used it. I didn't really believe it could be that easy until I tried it. I'm glad I did."

"I bought a Plymouth van as white as the snow and thanks to Autobytel.com it didn't cost much dough. My mouse clicked around the site in delight I picked out the options that made it just right. Thanks for your wonderful service!"

"I had been bargaining for a particular car with a local dealer for two days and was within $800 of the invoice price listed in the 'net. Before I committed to the deal, I decided to try Autobytel.com after reading an article in Inc. or Success...To my surprise, I was contacted within two hours of submitting my request and was offered the same car I had been negotiating for $100 over invoice by another local dealer. In addition, the financing rate was 0.4% better than either of the banks I normally use. The whole process took all of one day. Amazing! The total savings between the the sale price reduction and the interest savings over the life of the car are almost $1260. Thanks!"

"This is the first time in my entire life I purchased a car and left the dealership without feeling cheated. You guys are great."
